This mat with a thickness of 2.5 cm and a right-angled cut was originally developed as an insert mat for the classic Bobath table. Today the AIREX® Hercules is used in many different areas of application where even more comfort is desired, either as a single mat or joined to form larger areas. As a result, there are no limits to the diversity of therapeutic individual or group exercises. Its high buoyancy makes it a favoured mat of therapists and patients in hydrotherapy.
