This realistic training phantom is ideal for practicing tracheal intubation procedures and techniques.

The tongue is flexible and the teeth are made of hard plastic so you can also use a retractor. Elements such as the epiglottis and the soft palate are visible. The dog's head is mounted on a tripod, which is designed in such a way that it can be intubated in both standing and lying positions. The trainer also allows you to check if the intubation was performed correctly.

The supplied clamp ensures a stable base.
